Several parties are still patiently awaiting the return of J. E. Peck to Bullionivlle. He has been absent at Chicago several months whither he went to secure funds with which to complete his mill there. His indebtedness at Bullionville is not great and he writes that he hopes this month to return and resume opera-

This mill was expected to furnish ten tons of conceatrates a day. It would be a big factor in the suposed railroad entension if it were prepared to do it now.

May Result in Ligitation.

The contention between Lund, Campbell and Johnson, and Dr. W. J. Nelson over the ownership of lum Eagle Valley District promises to result in litigation.

Dr. Nelson was obligated to his option on the Lund etc. mines to put up a mill on the premises by the 5th of July next, or to pay $7000. on the purchase price. If the mill was completed and the option afterwards for feited the mill and all other improve ments were to revert to the claims

The option was thrown up on 18 of April, and Mess Lund, Campbell and Johnson claim that though the mill was not built, get all material which may have been placed on the ground preparatory to building etc., on the dollar. should fall to them.

This material embraces some 80,coo feet of sawed lumber, a poney sawinill, several loads of mill machinery, brick, etc., situated some read and approved. on one side of the line and some on the other.

Dr. Nelson paid $10,000 in cash on the option and worked 10 to 15 men for nearly three months on the claims and therefore think the owners made enough on the transaction, everything considered.
